

A Week of Anarchist Action: Jan. 15th-20th, 2005

From direct action to childcare to popular education, anarchists in DC are organizing for creative, vibrant protests to the inauguration --- if you can, come early and get involved. Form affinity groups and (seriously folks) plan and carry out autonomous actions, help Food Not Bombs cook for protestors, get information out on the protests to people in DC, assist groups working on local issues, such as work against gentrification, poverty and public financing for a Major League Baseball stadium in DC. The list goes on.

It didn't start in Seattle and it didn't end on September 11th. These protests are not the beginning and certainly not the end, but one stop in an ongoing struggle. What we build as we organize is just as important as what we produce in the protests itself. Use Jan. 20 as a focal point to build relationships and networks within your community and the movement that last long after Jan. 20. Use it as a basis for political discussions, tactical discussions, something to raise energy and action around. Put in practice new ways of organizing cooperatively, while breaking down social oppression so common in our day to day lives.

To create the world we want, we all need to participate. The power to change the world is not in the hands of Bush, the Democrats, or anyone else, it's in our hands - the hands of people everywhere, including you. Come to DC, there are thousands of others out there who can't wait to join us.

Yours,
DC Anarchist Resistance
www.anarchistresistance.org

(A collaboration of some DC area affinity groups and individuals organizing around Jan. 20th)

If you're with this call, pass it on and send us your endorsement to sign on: info@anarchistresistance.org
For updates on the effort you can get on the mailing list. Just email anarchistresistance-subscribe@lists.riseup.net
This goes out in solidarity with the Organic Collective's call for A Global Disruption of the Empire on Jan. 20th www.organiccollective.org

Stay tuned for a series of updates regarding anarchist resistance to the 2005 inauguration.
Expect more updates in the following weeks about more specific actions and events as they shape up at:
<http://www.anarchistresistance.org>